Putting the Puzzle Pieces Together: Gender Identity and Orientation

Presented by Joni Watke Stacy, PC, LLO

Workshop Location:
Region V Systems
1645 N Street
Lincoln, Nebraska

This presentation will help you put the puzzle pieces together to increase your cultural competence related to sex, gender, and orientation. The presentation will educate regarding the experiences of LGBTQ youth in their families and at school. Joni has educated and raised awareness of sex, gender, and orientation issues for thousands around the Midwest and across the country, including teachers and administrators, law enforcement personnel, community service providers, faith communities, mental health professionals, corporations, lawyers and court personnel, nurses, physicians, medical students, in college classrooms, to middle school and high school students, and at national conferences.

This presentation is an introduction to this topic to provide attendees with terminology and resources to improve their interactions with LGBTQ youth and their families. The first step in improving culture is to become educated in the basics and to create a common language from which more work can be done.
Learning Objectives

- Participants will comprehend understandable terminology and statistics about gender variant youth.
- Participants will discover how schools and providers can become more sensitive and welcoming to the needs of children and families experiencing gender nonconformity.
